

Half Moon named to 2008 Conde Nast Traveler Gold List

Rose Hall, Jamaica (January 2008) – Over 20,000 discriminating readers of Conde Nast Traveler have named Half Moon in its annual Gold List.

Dubbed as “The truth in travel” Conde Nast Traveler prides itself on providing readers with unbiased information about travel products from around the world. The bible for the upscale, affluent traveller, Conde Nast Traveler’s 13th annual Gold List edition, now on newsstands, is a much-anticipated survey by both travel providers and travellers.

“We are delighted to have made the 2008 Conde Nast Traveler Gold List as it is a tribute to the improvements that we have made throughout the year,” said Half Moon’s Managing Director, Richard Whitfield. Topping the list of these improvements has been the grand opening of the 68 000 square feet indoor/outdoor sanctuary, Fern Tree the Spa at Half Moon. Additionally, the resort unveiled six beachfront spa suites, the very first of its kind in the Caribbean. Each of the state of the art suites has added features that provide for in-room treatments, yoga, and fitness further extending Fern Tree’s wellness experience into guests’ accommodations.

Half Moon features 398 beautifully appointed rooms and suites. In addition to being highly suited for leisure travelers, the resort offers extensive indoor and outdoor meeting facilities, ideal destination wedding venues and a variety of recreational facilities. Guests can enjoy an exclusive dolphin lagoon; championship golf on one of the Caribbean’s best walking courses, an equestrian centre, first-class tennis, and a variety of water sports including diving as well as delectable specialty restaurants.
